

COMPENSATION LAW AIDS CITY WORKERS

Amendment Concerning "Hazardous" Employments Goes Into Effect June 1.

OFFICIALS MAY DECIDE

The amendment to the workmen's compensation law which provides insurance for public employees who are engaged in what the law terms "hazardous" work goes into effect June 1. Other public employees, those who are not in "hazardous" employments but who may suffer injuries, can be placed under the amended law if the authorities elect to be liable for accident compensation and thereby make the liability exclusive and in place of any other liability whatsoever at common law or otherwise on account of accidental injury or death.

Henry W. Odion, who is making a special examination of the civil list of New York city to ascertain the extent of the application of the amended law, pointed out yesterday that when the public authorities elect to accept the liability, then "the employees are deemed to have accepted the opportunity to get compensation for injuries." Fault as a cause of injury is not to be taken into account unless the injury is due to the negligence of another person.

The examination of the civil service list by Mr. Odion discloses the following "hazardous" employments in the various city departments in which accident compensation is payable:

HURLBURT TRUCKS IN A WIDE VARIETY OF SERVICE IN THIS CITY

HURLBURT TRUCKS A COMMUNITY AID

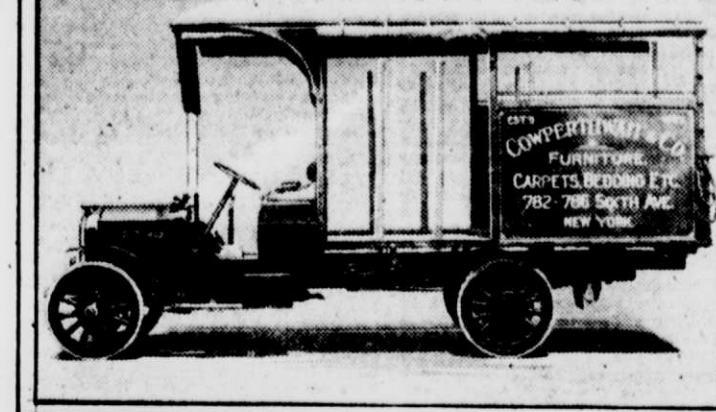

Is Asset to Business Men and Proximity of Factory Insures Steady Operation.

The Hurlburt Motor Truck Company today occupies a unique position in the motor truck world. It has established a large and thoroughly equipped factory in the heart of this city and has made a specialty of studying how to produce and place in the hands of New York city merchants the highest type of motor truck. It is an interesting fact that a comparatively new truck manufacturing company should command the serious attention of every large buyer in a community such as New York city, and should be able to induce many of the largest and best known firms in the country to purchase a product which has been only for a short time on this market.

This fact especially demands comment when it is considered that the New York market has had the highest form of special representation of every large and well known truck manufacturer of the country and where unlimited money has been spent by truck makers that the most difficult field in the country that its product has been designed and manufactured with skill and that the materials used are the best.

Gradually there has grown up in New York city a feeling of the greatest confidence in the product and the service of the Hurlburt Motor Truck Company. During the first few years a reputation of such high character was gained by this organization that many orders began to come in with little or no selling effort, until today the Hurlburt company stands with hundreds of thousands of dollars of contracts for Hurlburt trucks upon its books. The company heads soon realized they had outgrown the small plant in which they had produced their first vehicle, and having secured the large plant formerly occupied by the J. L. Mott Iron Works, situated at Harlem River and Third Avenue, here the company has many times the space formerly occupied, with both railroad and water transportation at its very door and every possible facility for taking care of the trade that has come to it as a result of its efforts to place in the hands of every purchaser a truck that is as near as humanly possible mechanically perfect.

It is unquestionably true that, practically viewed a purchaser can obtain a high grade motor truck manufactured in his own city, the results obtained from the continuous performance and efficiency of this vehicle will be very great because of the factory's proximity.

Concerning this plant Mr. Hurlburt says: "When the head of a mercantile house finds that it is necessary to purchase motor vehicles for use in carrying his goods it is easy for him to form a fair opinion of the mechanical construction and value of a motor truck by consulting with the makers' engineers and by examining the various tables of specifications. At the same time if the purchaser can, with the expenditure of only a few minutes of his time, visit the factory, watch the motor truck in its construction, examine every part and detail of the manufacture, he is in a far better position to judge of the true value of his purchase. There is also to be included in every sale a consideration of even greater value than the mere mechanical perfection or the refinements of details in the vehicle itself, a consideration of which it is difficult, if not almost impossible, for the average purchaser to form a true estimate. This consideration is the part which will be played in his purchase by the prompt and willing assistance which he will receive from the manufacturer in enabling him to maintain to the highest possible degree the service which he should receive in the use of his vehicle."

The Hurlburt company has always maintained a full complement of trained and experienced experts, who are always ready at the call or need of the owner of any Hurlburt truck. These men are experienced not only in all matters that pertain to giving practical aid in mechanical troubles which may arise in connection with the machine, but they have been trained to assist the purchaser in the many details that enable him to operate his vehicle economically. It is their business to teach the operators who may be employed how to properly run the trucks, to advise them to make the best adjustments on their car, how to save unnecessary strains and how to handle the thousand and one little details which go to forward the interest and satisfaction of the motor truck user. In many instances these men have had wide experience in the problems involved in the handling of the various kinds of merchandise to be delivered, both in the cities and in the country. The aid of men such as these should be of very great value to the community at large and to the individual merchant who is organizing a system of the delivery of his goods.

Among the Hurlburt users here are: Acker, Merrill & Condit; Adams Express Co.; American Express Co.; Landay Bros., Inc.; Hecker-Jones-Jewell Co.; Borden's Milk Co.; Kent-Costigan Co.; Kranch & Bach; Jacob Dill & Son; Dugan Bros.; Joseph Elias & Co.; Empire Fruit and Produce Co.; C.
